[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO FEBRUARY 25

SATURDAY'S DISPATCHES.

Terms of Peace still Unsettled.

BORDEAUX, Feb 24—No news has been received respecting the negotiations at Versailles This silence will be maintained until the conditions of peace are fully decided on

BERLIN, Feb 24—The Prussian Cross Gazette says the dispatches in the Belgium journals, purporting to give the conditions of peace now under negotiation, are altogether incorrect

LILLE Feb 24—A telegram from the Government at Bordeaux warns the people against false reports as to the terms of peace, which, it says, cannot yet be known

Another Grant Requisition.

HAVRE, Feb 24—The amount of requisition made by the enemy on Honfleur is 545,000f

The Money Demand of the Germans.

LONDON, Feb. 24—The Telegraph's Paris dispatch of the 23d says that all the conditions of peace are settled, except that of money The Germans demand two million thalers, while France has offered to pay one-milliard The Germans have allowed 700 000 for requisitions and fines, and the debts of Alsace and Lorraine, but hold out for one and a quarter milliards Friendly arrangements are anticipated

Count Senkel and Banker Claeichechroove have gone to Paris from Versailles to discuss financial questions with Thiers Bismarck demands six milliards, deducting from it the contributions levied Thiers is opposing it vigorously

The journals say the demand made by the German in France have produced a powerful impression in the Cabinets of London, Vienna and St Petersburg

Further Dispatches via London.

LONDON, Feb 24—A Times' special from Versailles to day says Bismarck doubts peace if France asks for a prolongation of the armistice Hostilities will recommence at midnight on the 26th. The guns of the forts are turned toward Paris

A Havre dispatch says great indignation was felt that the Germans have occupied Honfleur, a stipulated neutral ground

An Amiens dispatch says unfavorable news has been received from Versailles The German troops are already in motion

The Brussels Nord says Bismarck insists at the restoration to Paris of the impost of 200,000,000 francs if no hostile manifestations are made during the passage of the Germans through Paris

A letter dated the 22d says a conflict is expected should the Germans enter the city

The Journal des Debats says Bismarck, at the request of Thiers, has ordered the cessation of requisitions upon the inhabitants of all sections, and has declared all contributions levied since the 28th of January will be deducted from the French indemnity

Rumors are that the Assembly on leaving Bordeaux will reassemble at Fontainbleau.

English Policy.

LONDON, Feb 24—In the House of Commons to night, Disraeli made a powerful speech on the foreign policy He argued that the House should consider the gravity of the Eastern question and the serious consequences of Russia's repudiation of the treaty of 1856, which had cost England such sacrifices to make He said it had generally been believed that Russell's errand to Bismarck was to announce to him that England stands ready to join Prussia in opposing Russian repudiation, now it seemed that the Government denied such was the object of Russell's mission

Mr Gladstone replied denouncing Disraeli's inference, and expressing surprise that the right honorable gentleman should condescend to heed and repeat the rumors on which they were based to arrange En sin at a moment so critical, by gratuitous language It was simply madness The Conference would hear Russia's case in all fairness and act on it with justice He declared there was no truth in the report that a messenger had been sent to Versailles to congratulate the Prussian Princes on their victories

Armistice to be Prolonged Forty-eight Hours.

BORDEAUX Feb 25—Thiers Favre and Picard have not yet arrived The departure of Thiers from Paris is not yet announced

It is generally concluded that the Assembly will not meet to morrow, and that the armistice will be prolonged forty eight hours

More about the Conditions of Peace

LONDON Feb 25—There is great uneasiness in the north of England on the subject of peace negotiations Everything is in readiness to inundate the country The Le du Nord protests against the theory of revenge as contrary to national interests and those of progress

A Paris special says the French object more to the form than the substance of the Prussian terms The preliminaries have been settled by stipulations of the treaty have not yet been agreed upon The French are endeavoring to obtain the abandonment of the distress ng conditions Peace is regarded in Paris as signed

French Ambassador reaches London.

LONDON, Feb. 25—The French Ambassador presented his credentials yesterday

Later Dispatches from Paris

PARIS Feb 24—Blanc Hugo and Rochefort, and Radicals of the Government will present in the Assembly a motion demanding the impeachment of Napoleon

A special from Versailles says a movement of concentration has commenced toward the south It is stated that the French regiments near Bordeaux are composed of excellent material.

PARIS, Feb 25—It is said that Thiers accepts the principle of territorial cession, but strives to save Metz Bismarck agrees, but Moltke objects The Prussians continue levies, and are impressing upon refusal Colliery Explosion in Wales.

LONDON, Feb 25—A terrible colliery explosion has occurred in South Wales Fifty persons were killed

WASHINGTON CITY

Congressional

WASHINGTON, Feb 25—The Senate took up and passed the House bill providing for the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of American Independence at Philadelphia, in 1876, by an exposition of manufactures, science and art

The Senate non concurred in the amendments of the House to the Southern Pacific Railroad bill and a Committee of Conference was ordered Howard, Kellogg and Flanagan were appointed as the committee

In the House, Hooper, Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means presented a letter from Pleasonton, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, stating that in view of the action by the Senate and Committee of Ways and Means of the House, looking towards the repeal of the income tax, he had naturally delayed until the last moment before authorizing any expense in connection with the assessment of the tax, but that longer delay on his part was impossible, and he therefore urged that action in the House be pressed to an immediate conclusion

Hooper gave notice, in connection with the letter, that he would at the earliest opportunity move to go into Committee of the Whole for the purpose of taking up the bill to repeal the income tax

An item of $6 000 000 to indemnify States for costs, charges and expenses probably incurred for enrolling and subsisting troops for the defense of the United States during the late insurrection, was struck out as not being properly in order in the appropriation bill A like disposition was made of an item of $850 000 for payment of horses and other property lost in the military service of the United States

The Joint High Commission

The English members of the Joint High Commission visited the State Department yesterday, and were introduced by Sir Edward Thornton to Mr Fish They will be introduced to the President to day by Mr Fish A preliminary meeting will probably be held on Monday next but they will not organize regularly for work until the arrival of McDonald Northcote and Hoar There seems to be an impression that the sessions and discussions of the Commission are to be open but this is an error

The San Domingo Commission

The Tribune's Washington special says that a gentleman who returned from San Domingo says "The Associated Press dispatch published this morning, that the Commissioners had decided not to send a preliminary report because information to be acquired may change their present opinion was probably not intended to intimate that new discoveries had been made, but that the Commissioners propose visiting Hayti, and do not wish to commit themselves to opinions based on a one sided and partial survey of the field It is the opinion of this gentleman that the Commissioners will report that the natural advantages and beauties of the country are equal to the manifestations What will be said on other topics is not known The amount of information collected is immense and the probability is that the report will fill a large volume, perhaps more than one

Southern Pacific Railroad

The failure of the efforts in the Senate to day to have the Southern Pacific Railroad bill taken up, and to have it referred to a Committee of Conference has somewhat discouraged its friends The objection seems to be that as the bill now stands, it leaves everything to the discretion of the incorporators, most of them being Northern men It is said that the road will be made wholly tributary to Northern railroads and interests The Southern friends of the measure desire to have the guage of the road so prescribed that it will afford accommodations to existing Southern roads which are interested in and connected with the Texas Pacific The probability is that, with the present disagreement and under the existing pressure of business, the bill will have to go over with many others, but there is yet a chance of its coming to a vote soon, and as the Appropriation bills make good progress, time will be found to do something with the measure

EASTERN STATES

NEW YORK, Feb 25—The United State frigate California, twenty three guns, Capt J M B Clitz, is anchored off the Battery. Her supply of powder will soon be stowed away, and is about ten days she will sail for San Francisco

SOUTH AMERICA

RIO JANEIRO, Feb 6—Troops and the insurgents have been routed The revolution continues in Montevideo

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 22.—The weather is cool and clear The barometer this week has been varying in a most violent manner from unusual to calm Some people prophesy earthquakes as the result

Subscriptions are being urgently solicited for the families of the men who perished in the attempt to reach Honolulu with a gig of the Saginaw, to procure assistance for the wrecked party They leave families of small children wholly unprovided for Contributions are received by A P Kinney, Paymaster U S N, No 434 California street.

The Courts adjourned to day out of respect to the memory of James F Halleard

Mrs. Laura Fair will be tried for the murder of A P Crittenden, in the Fifteenth District Court on the 20th of March, having been arraigned and pleaded "not guilty"

William Henderson, of this city, and O F Marshall, of Providence Rhode Island made a match to day for $2 000 (half forfeit) between the Patchen horse 'Jimmy McMann' (formerly "Shoo-Fly") and the Hambletonian mare "Forest Queen," race to come off at the Agricultural Park April 22d

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

VISALIA, Feb 25—J C Chalmers, convicted of murder in the second degree on the 4th inst was sentenced yesterday to fifteen years imprisonment

To day J McCrovey pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree, and was sentenced to fifteen years imprisonment

Stages from Havilah have failed to arrive for the last four days There is said to be from five to ten feet of snow on the mountains between here and Havilah, where there is only a few inches usually

NEVADA.

HAMILTON, Feb 25—At Pioche City, on Wednesday night Thomas Coleman, Marshal of Treasure City, was stabbed in three places by a man named Morgan Courting a woman was the cause of the quarrel When the stage left Coleman was still alive, but there was little chance of his recovery The courting man is in custody

ARIZONA

Indian Depredations—Favorable Mining News.

LOS ANGELES Feb 25—The Prescott (Arizona) Miner of the 18th contains the following

This section is alive with Indians, who are becoming bolder every day One day last week a band of one hundred visited a ranch twelve miles north of Prescott and opened fire upon two men who were at work After some resistance the men fled and the savages destroyed everything One night last week they attempted to capture the stage between Wickenburg and Phoenix but failed Attacks upon ranches, to run off stock, are of common occurrence

The excitement regarding the new miner in Bradshaw's District is still intense A man who is a foreman of the Savage mine in Virginia City Nevada, for many years, states that the ore of the Tiger mine is far superior to any ever taken from the Comstock lode The news from other districts is favorable

BY STATE TELEGRAPH.

Shooting Affray at Jacksonville.

JACKSONVILLE, Feb 25—A shooting affray took place here to-day on the main street of this town, between Valentine S. Rolls and James D Fay, in which neither of the parties received serious injury It seems that Rolls approached Fay and accused him of the seduction of his daughter, and told him that one of them must die Both drew pistols simultaneously, Rolls firing first, the ball striking the guard of Fay's pistol and preventing its use Rolls fired three shots, one of which passed through the pocket book in the breast pocket of Fay's coat, lodging against a rib but doing no injury After the shooting, Rolls mounted his horse quietly and rode home

The Wallowa Valley.

The Dalles Mountaineer contains the following description of the valley of this name

There is a vast, rugged stack of isolated mountains, of a triangular shape, bounded on the east by Snake river, southwest by Powder river, and northwest by Grand Ronde river The pass called 'The Cove' near Union some separates these mountains entirely from the Blue Mountains The apex of the triangle which this mountain forms, points to the west—the base abuts against Snake river and is covered with perpetual snow and many of them are barely surpassed in height by Mount Hood They all have the same pyramidal regularity of form and the stack taken together, has the appearance of a group of Mount Hoods On the south side of these mountains are the mining camps known as New Hope, Chester or Eagle Creek and Pine Creek Flowing out of the north side of the stack, and running into Grand Ronde river near its mouth, is the Wallowa—a stream much larger than the Grand Ronde After falling over vast precipices, the waters of the stream come together in Wallowa valley, which is nearly sixty miles in length and twenty at its greatest width This valley is much lower than the Grand Ronde, and the climate is consequently more favorable It shows the evidences of lake formation so common in our mountain valleys, and can only be conveniently approached from the east side In every other direction it is walled in by almost perpendicular cliffs which bear marks of the gradual subsidence of the waters At the same time there is no convenient market for agricultural products, but it could even now be used for stock raising as conveniently as almost any other valley beyond Walla Walla in the upper country The scenery surrounding it approaches to awful sublimity, and this emerald set in the surrounding snow clad mountains affords one of the finest summer retreats on the continent It is probably the best country for sport with the angle and gun on the tributaries of Snake river.

On March 1st Rev Mr Robert, of Portland, will deliver a lecture for the benefit of the Albany Library Association

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Progress of Negotiations between Germany and France

PARIS Feb 25—M Ponlerquerettier has been appointed Minister of Commerce

Thiers went to Versailles yesterday, and after his return consulted the Commission of fifteen It is believed that negotiations were resumed to day It is said the present difficulty is respecting the treaty of commerce The newspapers oppose the Prussians' alleged intention of imposing a commercial treaty on France

Le Temps says the annual product of the landed property of France will not for a long time exceed 13 000 000 000 francs An indemnity, therefore of 1 000,000,000 is excessive

The sympathetic words of President Grant's message toward the German Empire are a painful surprise to the French Democracy

Terms of Peace Positively Agreed On

VERSAILLES, Feb 24 Midnight—Thiers Favre and Bismarck held a long conference on Friday The terms of peace are agreed upon, but their exact nature is a profound secret It is only known that they resemble previous accounts and will be submitted on Saturday to the Consultation Committee Peace is certain The armistice is to be prolonged, and the Prussians enter Paris on Monday.

Railroad Service in France to be Resumed.

HAVRE, Feb 25—The railroad service from Havre and Dieppe to Paris will be resumed on Sunday.

WASHINGTON CITY

Congressional

WASHINGTON, Feb 25—The following nominations have been sent to the Senate Henry F Rice Superintendent of the Branch Mint at Carson City, Nevada Andrew Miller, Receiver of Public Moneys, Susanville, California J S Ward Register of Land office, Susanville, California

In the Senate Williams moved an amendment to the Australian mail steamship subsidy holding a subsidy of $300,000 per annum. He advocated the proposition as a means of creating valuable commerce across the Pacific and in connection with our Pacific railroads

Chandler's motion to lay the motion on the table was agreed to—27 to 24

The amount reported from the Committee on Appropriations in case of subsidy now given for mail service between San Francisco, Japan and China, for one half to a million dollars annually, is on condition that mail service be semi monthly instead of monthly, and additional steamers of not less than 4,000 tons register

The friends of the Australian and New Zealand steamship line are much disappointed at the result of the vote on the $300,000 subsidy in the House of Representatives, they having been very confident of carrying it by 100 majority It is quite doubtful whether the line will be established without the subsidy as, despite the figures published, it is not believed the trade and travel alone will anything like pay the necessary running expense for some years at least The line now running has received but a meagre support, and may be withdrawn if a new one is put on

Last night Michael Cammagan, or Calehan, was arrested for a minor offense and locked up in a cell at Harbor Police station on Davis street During the night he deliberately set fire to the place having been allowed to retain some matches and a knife when locked up The flames were making headway on all sides when discovered Hawes taken to the city prison and booked for arrest The building stands in the center of a large block of frame structures, and in a few minutes more a disastrous fire would have been inevitable

Homes for Immigrants

From an article published in the Mountaineer we extract the following

Beside the well known settlements of Walla Walla Grande Ronde Powder river Umatilla, the country in the vicinity of Colville Spokane and Lewiston we would direct the attention of immigrants to the country lying on the upper Deschutes, Crooked river, Owyhee the different tributaries of the John Day, and last though not least, the vast fertile regions north of the Columbia. As this section of country is farther off the regular routes of travel we will here give a more particular description

Eighty miles north of Umatilla the Athanum valley on the [illegible] It empties into Yakima [illegible] th to south along the [illegible] ge and at the mouth of [illegible] nd runs to the [illegible] Le [illegible] some miles above [illegible] [illegible] ear ergt width [illegible] land on the north [illegible] e-emption [illegible] nwood balm, birch and [illegible] of the creek for ordinary use. In the [illegible] part of the valley which [illegible] about twenty miles long, there is an abundance of pine and a considerable quantity of oak timber The lands are a rich [illegible] lluvium with a fine retaining subsoil of clay and marl

There are also tracts of that desirable class of land which [illegible] ation and are of particular [illegible] ted vineyards Wheat can be [illegible] to any and all lands in the [illegible] aste is mild, and during the [illegible] the worst ever known in the climate lived well in the Athanum valley

Jay Cooke and the Northern Pacific Railroad.

On the 2d inst a large number of prominent persons, among whom was Jay Cooke, met at Brooklyn to discuss the prospects of the Northern Pacific Railroad The most noteworthy thing at the meeting was an address by Jay Cooke in which a statement was made of the resources and purposes of the Company He traced on a map the route of the road from Duluth on Lake Superior across to Red river and thence to the Missouri and Yellowstone From the report of his remarks we quote

The route passes thence to Gallatin through one of the most favored portions of the country for stock raising, and also through the gold mining region of Montana The route then followed the valley of the Columbia to the Pacific coast. When it was completed New York (or, as he should say, Brooklyn, as he was now perhaps addressing that locality) would be some 600 miles nearer the Pacific The distance from Brooklyn to Puget Sound would be about 3,000 miles, and an express train running at the rate of 29 miles an hour would traverse the distance in about four days The grades on the whole route would be easy, and nowhere exceed fifty feet to the mile I was not a frozen region that the road traversed as the speaker proceeded to show by several [illegible] No snow sheds would be required, and there would not be a tunnel on the entire [illegible] He explained in detail the vastness of the [illegible] Northwestern country, as well as its unbounded resources, water power, forests, and mineral wealth. Along the entire route of the [illegible] Central there was a region of coal which was the substratum of all mineral wealth The [illegible] was fertile, the temperature mild, and [illegible] capable of enormous development It [illegible] ports and drains navigable streams along the [illegible] route

[illegible] days ago we published a statement [illegible] Smith, President of the Northern [illegible] Company had purchased all the boats [illegible] the Transportation Company on [illegible] and that they would run in connection with the Northern Pacific road this fact Mr [illegible] remarked

[illegible] his action which are [illegible] on the plan for the [illegible] of a [illegible] and a [illegible] ental line is suggested on at [illegible] New England as it is believed that the great power acquired by the Central Managers will be used not in the spirit [illegible] monopoly but for the best interests of the road and state The Northern Pacific Company [illegible] new building was ward from Lake Superior. [illegible] money has been paid in by the stockholders to construct and equip the first division of the road from Lake Superior across Minnesota to Red river of the North—223 miles The [illegible] this branch—$6 000,000—has been [illegible] and the work is being rapidly pushed to completion

[illegible] marked however, that he was not prepared to state the exact time of the completion of the road His individual opinion was [illegible] within four years the trains of the Indies would be carried over that route. But as financial agents of the company, the firm [illegible] be represented would not make any [illegible] that could not be realized. The [illegible] the Company he would pledge as [illegible] the safest and soundest securities in the market He enlarged upon the vast extent and immense value of the land grant, stated that he deemed it ample security [illegible] more money than would be required to [illegible] of the shortness of this route compared with that by way of [illegible] and Salt Lake he said

[illegible] reason why China and Japan for San [illegible] now origin to sail within eighty [illegible] Pacific and each its port of destination [illegible] on North Pacific Railroad is completed [illegible] perfected telegraphs are constructed the [illegible] of the vessel will be landed at New York, [illegible] the announcement of its safe telegraphed to [illegible] sooner than the vessel can now be [illegible] the Golden Gate.

[illegible] many of the 'solid men' of New [illegible] present at this meeting The remarkable fact that every department of the trade [illegible] the great financial centre and [illegible] metropolis was represented [illegible] at first was manifested in the enthusiasm [illegible] fact that this new great highway across the continent is soon to be opened [illegible] awakening a remarkable degree of interest and calling forth much comment in all the eastern States The result is that public attention is being directed to this quarter, and a large accession to our population may be expected

The Shooting Affray at Jacksonville

An account of a shooting affray which took place at Jacksonville on Saturday last is published elsewhere The Herald prints some [illegible] portions of which we quote below, [illegible] may throw light on the affair, but in the absence of proofs in the case we allege [illegible] and wait for further developments [illegible] letters to the Herald come from Jackson [illegible] and are dated the 18th and 19th respectively In the first one the writer says

[illegible] have a horrible tale to tell you, which I have seen with my own eyes, as did some fifteen others [illegible] persons I relate it to you, so that you [illegible] able to do the public justice (if justice [illegible] be due such a case) by holding the villain [illegible] public execration and excoriation. What I state [illegible] is every word of it A man lives in [illegible] house with his two sisters. The house they [illegible] is one [illegible] During the last eighteen [illegible] he has kept a young lady as a hired girl [illegible] to the family He and the hired [illegible] slept up stairs a thin partition separating [illegible] rooms where his sisters slept down stairs [illegible] man is a very beautiful girl, and a [illegible] character stood high in the [illegible] Thursday morning, the 16th [illegible] disappeared from the house [illegible] daylight A messenger was sent to [illegible] ascertain if she had gone [illegible] father lives about seven miles from [illegible] The messenger returned about o'clock [illegible] stating with the information that the girl [illegible] not been home Immediately a party of men, [illegible] fifteen of us, started to hunt for the girl. In [illegible] back of the house We soon struck her [illegible] and tracked her about one mile, when we [illegible] her in a thick bunch of brush, with an [illegible] wrapped up in her dress. The child was [illegible] and comfortable, the poor girl was almost [illegible] to death Had we started an hour later [illegible] her track night would have overtaken us before we could have found the girl, and ere morning she would have chilled to death The girl confessed in the presence of her own mother, and others that the father of the child was the man at whose house she had been living That it is his child the entire community is well convinced The girl is about twenty-one years old, now She loved this man as only woman can love, and you can see what has been done for her Is it not a nice man that can turn his dwelling house into a house of ill fame? His sisters are both estimable ladies, and I sympathize with them to the bottom of my heart.

Following is from the letter of the 19th

I wrote you yesterday giving you the facts in a case just developed which is truly heartrending If you had heard the wail that went up from the poor girl when we found her, nearly chilled to death, you would never forget it The girl now tells that she had the child in Fay's stable.

The next papers that reach here from Jacksonville will no doubt throw more light on this scandalous and almost tragical affair, and we postpone comments till fuller information is received

The Test Oath Message from the President.

On the 14th inst President Grant notified the two Houses of Congress that he had permitted the bill to repeal the test oath in certain cases to become a law without his signature, in the manner prescribed by the Constitution He however remarked in regard to it

If this were a bill for the repeal of the test oath required of persons elected or appointed to offices of honor or trust, it would meet my approval The effect of the law, however, is to relieve from taking a prescribed oath all those persons whom it was intended to exclude from such offices and to require it from all others By this law the soldier who fought and bled for his country is to swear his loyalty before assuming official functions, whilst the General who commanded hosts for the overthrow of his traitorous enemies is admitted to place without it I cannot affix my name to a law which discriminates against the upholders of his Government I believe, however, that it is not a wise policy to keep from office by an oath those who are not disqualified by the Constitution, and who are the choice of loyal voters, but whilst relieving them from an oath which they cannot take, I recommend the release also of those to whom the oath has no application

Dissemination of Facts about Oregon

Senator Corbett has procured the publication in the Agricultural Report for 1870 of the statistics and general information about Oregon, published some time ago by the Board of Statistics and Immigration, of this city We have not seen the Report, as it is but just issued, but a copy has been seen by the editor of the Salem Statesman, who thus speaks of the excellent service which Senator Corbett has performed for the State in this matter

To show the value of the use Senator Corbett has made of his influence at Washington for the benefit of Oregon we must state that three hundred thousand copies of this report on Agriculture are published and circulated through every portion of the United States, thus giving the statements it contains a circulation nearly distributed throughout every Congressional District in the Union more general than could be gained through any journal the most influential, because these works are distributed among men of every political and religious creed This report describes fully the geographical situation of Oregon, the character of soil and climate, the natural subdivisions of the State, and the differences in soil and products arising therefrom Minute particulars are published as to every town and county Our population, industries, products, resources, and natural advantages and contemplated improvements are all set forth, and the state of civilization we have attained our educational institutions, our commercial facilities, the condition and price of lands, everything, in fact, of importance to be known to afford information and secure immigration, is thus published in the broadest manner without a dollar of expense to the people of Oregon

It is well known that Great Britain once claimed Oregon A member of the British Columbia Legislature a few days ago under took to tell how she lost it He said that in 1845 two British ships of war were sent to overawe the country and report to the British Ministry upon its value The Earl of Aberdeen was Premier at the time, the commander of one of the ships was the Earl's brother, and he and others went ashore at Columbia river and tried to catch salmon with flies The salmon wouldn't take the flies and the officers caught no fish When they returned to their ships the Earl's brother wrote home 'The country is not worth a damn' And the British Ministry immediately relinquished all claim to it

When Senator Williams a few days ago caused to be read in the Senate the reactionary and revolutionary resolutions of the Oregon Legislature in regard to the constitutional amendments, Senator Thurman of Ohio perceived that it would hardly do to let the resolutions go to the country without some attempt to soften them down, so he arose and stated that an authoritative exposition of Democratic principles could not be had till the next National Democratic Convention should assemble, on which occasion a platform would be laid down for the Democracy of Oregon, as elsewhere This was equivalent to saying the unreconstructed Democracy of this State are far off the track, and that their violent utterances are not approved by the party in other States

The Herald takes up the Democratic Confederate-State-compact secession theory of politics right where the rebels left it when they surrendered at Appomattox, and contends for it with astonishing earnestness Its editor writes column after column to vindicate the theory, quoting Alexander H Stephens, the Confederate Vice President, and similar authorities, with a perfect looseness It is plainly to be seen that the unhappy "organ" will never be satisfied till the country adopts the political theory on which Stephens and his "compatriots" seceded from the Union and set up the Confederate government

All the Democratic papers say it is right that the remainder of the grant of five hundred thousand acres of land should be confirmed to the use of common schools In this they confess it was wrong to use any portion of the grant for other than school purposes

THE TERRITORIES

The Vancouver Register of February 25th says Father St Onge, from Attahnum, lately visited this city He reports things progressing finely on the Attahnum The St. Joseph Mission will have its title complete as soon as surveyed The Mission claims are held by the strongest kind of title, direct statute of the United States, stronger than any patent, so those parties who attempt to jump them will sow to the wind and reap the whirlwind.

The crew of the Forest King, the vessel which was wrecked on the west coast of Vancouver Island a short time ago, was plundered by the Indians Collector Drew, of Port Townsend, went a few days since to Victoria to see the authorities about the matter He claimed that the vessel was under the American flag, and being cast ashore on British soil, where the Indians robbed the crew of everything they possessed, therefore the British Government ought to compensate them for their loss, as the Indians are British subjects

A Seattle paper says On Tuesday morning last an Indian, known by the name of Jim Spoon, was found dead on the beach a short distance below Parnell's establishment His head was battered and cut by rocks which his assailants had made free use of in dispatching him to his happy hunting grounds He belonged up the Duwamish river, was down here on a general spree, and was probably killed by some of his own band, who were here at the same time, for what little whisky he still had about him About noon his dead carpus was taken in custody by some of his tribe put in a canoe and paddled across Duwamish Bay No attempts were made to obtain any clue as to the perpetrators of this murder, let alone any one having been arrested on suspicion of being concerned in the affair, the custom here in such cases being to let the Indians attend to their own domestic difficulties

OREGON

The iron to be used in the construction of the Penitentiary will cost $25 000

East of the mountains the demand for fat beef cattle from Portland, Puget Sound and Victoria is increasing rapidly.

Last week a lot of potatoes was shipped from Portland to Corvallis where they sold readily for $1 50 per bushel. Won't Mr Holladay hurry up the west side railroad, so that Benton county can import her potatoes for less money?

At a regular meeting of the directors of the Dalles Military Road Company the following gentlemen were elected officers for the ensuing year Dr B W Mitchell, President O S Savage, Vice-President G W Waldron, Treasurer, O W. Weaver, Secretary.

From the Statesman Superintendent Measham writes that he has succeeded in having a large tract of land in southeastern Oregon reserved from sale and settlement, with the idea that if it shall be found suitable for that purpose it can in the future be used as a reservation to make a home for the various Indian tribes of Oregon This region would be remote from the various routes of travel, and would please the Indians where they could practice at leisure the arts of civilized life without being molested by the evils that the least civilized of civilized men are so apt to inflict upon them

The Eugene Guard asks these pointed questions Why should dried apples and onions be shipped from Portland to Eugene? Why should hotel and restaurant keepers be compelled to send to Portland for butter? Why should Cross, of Salem, have to go to Chicago to buy hogs to fill his contract, and then send to San Francisco for barrels in which to pack it? Those things are facts—why should they exist? Is land so scarce, or so dear that our farmers have no space for onion beds? Are the Lane county orchards all dead, that our farmers cannot furnish Eugene with dried apples?

H Thielsen, of the Wallamet Valley R R Co, says the Statesman, has lately filed with the Governor a map of the completed surveys for that road between Portland and McMinnville, and reaching to within forty miles of Astoria. The road turns south to McMinnville at Forest Grove, and the Astoria branch deflects towards the northwest from there, going up Gates' creek for quite a distance, and then following the Nehalem river down as far as the line is indicated on that map The line from Portland to McMinnville forms an elbow, while the surveyed line to Astoria from Forest Grove is as tortuous as the windings of the streams whose bourse it follows The distance from Forest Grove to Astoria, by direct line, is supposed to be between sixty and seventy miles, while the survey for the Astoria railroad is 99 miles

Col Forney, in his "Anecdotes of Public Men," after citing the fact that Col Benton supported Buchanan in 1856, in opposition to his own son in law, adds

'Nobody was more surprised than Buchanan himself He knew that Benton disliked him as sincerely as he esteemed Gen Fremont. But the matter was easily explained The Missouri statesman believed that the Pennsylvania candidate would, if elected, be true to the great work of justice to Kansas, that he would obeck the design of forcing slavery into that Territory, and that he would tranquilize the country by arresting the sectional tendencies of the times He lived, like hundreds of thousands of others, to realize his mistake, but he passed off before the war that resulted from the absence of a little courage to maintain the most solemn pledge ever made to a confiding people"

Worcester, Mass, has a milk vender who occupies a room fitted up with a large tank or can, holding about 180 gallons, into which pure milk is put Every time the receptable is filled, however forty gallons of a mixture of burned molasses, chalk, salt and water is added, and the whole mixed together and sold as genuine country milk The other day this man was fined $50 for his cheat.

From many testimonials we subjoin the following From Circular of the State Normal Board of Minnesota

"The importance of a correct and careful training of the voice both in song, and in speaking, can scarcely be over estimated Probably thousands of our public speakers and singers are at the present time ruining their voices by a wrong use of a few vocal organs This is the inevitable result of a false system of training Impressed with this fact the Board has united the departments of Vocal Music Elocution and Physical Culture under the more comprehensive designation of the Department of Vocal and Physical Culture and has placed at its head Professor J K McGibeny one of the most accomplished instructors in this field to be found in the country Under his thorough and philosophical system of training the Board confidently expects to inaugurate a much needed reform in this important branch of education in the State This training alone will more than justify the expense of the entire Normal course,

From Hon Marlow H Donnell, State Superintendent of Public Instruction in his report to the Legislature of Minnesota

"Prof McGibeny gave a eminent address in the State Normal School, stamps him master of his profession"

From Dr Youmans of New York city

"We regard these exercises of the highest value in gaining and retaining strength and symmetry of body and vigor and elasticity of mind Under Prof McGibeny a skillful leadership they indeed work wonders"

Of Olympia

On Tuesday Even'g, Feb. 28, 1871,

Subject—"Picked up Fish," an old-fashioned homely dish, possessing Political importance and a National History. What good does, and what broils may cause.

Colonel Pardee is well known as a popular Lecturer and those who heard him last winter will testify that he deserves the high reputation he has won

He has chosen a subject decidedly practical, and were it not for its avowal hymeas we should hesitate to believe but that he intends giving us his views on essay on Political Economy A scientific treatise would not be relished by a savory dish—well seasoned pungent, racy—and although it may possess an English flavor, yet it will be served up in true American style.

CITY.

RIVER ITEMS.—A friend, who has been "around the circle" up the valley, contributes the following items:

The stockholders of the Willamette Transportation Company of Corvallis are to hold a meeting to decide the destiny of the Calliope. The company discovered that there are outstanding claims against it to the amount of $8,000 incurred, besides the original cost of the boat, which was about $9,000. A committee of investigation will be appointed to inquire into the matter.

A very prosperous business season is anticipated at Salem during the ensuing summer. The winter trade would have been unusually brisk, but for the small-pox scare.

Queen Vista is in need of walks to the landing to enable ladies to reach or leave the boat without getting mired.

The harvester at Albany is unusually brisk this winter, and with the two canals or mill-races completed it will become a manufacturing town of greater importance than at present. Some new bridges are being erected, and an air of general prosperity prevails.

Marks of improvement may be met with on the principal streets of Corvallis, an omen that they are disposed to shine. Major Johnson, of the City Mills, is just completing one of the finest houses in town. They anticipate a lively travel to Yaquina Bay this season, which, with buoyant hopes of the Bay railroad, enables them to confidently anticipate prosperity for the future, and already smile upon the present.

The California Stage Company propose to put on passengers and mails through from Portland to San Francisco in three and a half days during the coming summer, as per the remapping of Mr. Babcock, Superintendent of the northern division.

Oregonia boasts of the late arrival of one of her enterprising farmers, Mr. H. L. Rudd, with a band of pure Cotswold sheep, and several new implements, viz: a most efficient tree pruner, new broadcast grain drill and carriage-top rest, which are quite the slickest things in those parts. The former is just the implement most needed now in the Willamette valley, to save the untrimmed orchards.

Harrisburg has not been asleep while other towns have advanced. She has kept even, or a little ahead in some things, of any like town on the river. Newly paved streets, new walks, and quite a large addition of new houses attest their activity. While other places have inventions, Harrisburg claims medical remedies. Mr. Smith, "Old Salem," has gained a reputation in the Willamette valley, to save the untrimmed orchards. Mr. J. Love has brought out a liniament that knocks rheumatism "galley west."

Capt. Cochran brought down the Reliance, last Saturday, from Salem, with 100 tons freight and some passengers.

Capt. S. Miller, of the Shoo Fly, made the trip from Harrisburg to Eugene and back again in seven hours and forty minutes, which is the fastest run ever made between those points, and the Shoo Fly can take the horns above Harrisburg. Capt. Miller considers the upper river a large field for a photographic artist, because the boat's course turns to all points of the compass, which obviates the necessity of turning the instrument.

There is considerable curiosity among heavy tax payers, to know in what form the bonds for funding the locks were made, whether the claims which pledges the county lands as payment, are payable to the bearer of them, or are they issued as merely State bonds, so as to be negotiable in the State or anywhere else? It is hoped by those who ought to know, and have a right to know, that no one except the company has ever seen one of them. If they are formed on the credit of the State direct, without the act pertaining to the school lands, or otherwise, why this secrecy? Come out boldly.

THE DESPERATE OF THE AGE.—This is the theme of an article in one of our religious weeklies. It is a very well written article, too; though the subject cannot be said to be exactly new. Old daddy Nestor, who, as King of Pylos, ruled over three generations of men, uttered lamentations on the same theme, which were remarkable enough to be considered worthy of preservation, and they were accordingly reduced to poetic feet and made immortal. It was some three thousand years ago that old Nestor wailed, and regularly every year since somebody has bemoaned the degeneracy of man and predicted that it would be impossible for the human race to hold its grip much longer. Among every man's first recollections are the sayings of this sort, by his respected grandfather, his good old grandmother, and all his reverend and reverend acquaintances, male and female. We may believe the long line of croakers, from Nestor down, the world of men and women has degenerated in such a degree that nothing but a miracle of figures of speech could do it justice and yet, somehow, the world has made shift to get along, and is getting along as well as could be reasonably expected.

IN CHAINS.—A soldier in chains and under guard, taken through our streets on Saturday, created some sensation. Upon inquiry we found that [illegible] Bird, who killed Lieut. Gelt at Sitka, about a year ago at Sitka, and that he had been convicted of manslaughter by court-martial at Vancouver, he was on his way to [illegible] after the sentence of fifteen years' confinement at hard labor. An attempt was made at Vancouver to take him from the military authorities, in order to give him a trial before the civil courts, but the military seem to have got the best of it in some way.

PASSAGE STEAMER SOLD.—The little iron screw steamer Eagle, which has plied these waters almost ever since Mount Hood was a hole in the ground, has at last about run her course. She has been sold, we are informed, to John West & Co., of Westport, and will be broken up. Her machinery is to be taken out and put into a new and larger boat for use in the fishing business. The Eagle is the last of the race of pioneer boats on the river.

NEW TIME SCHEDULE.—A new schedule of departures and arrivals of the railroad trains went into effect yesterday. The morning train leaves East Portland at 9 o'clock, and the afternoon train leaves at 3 o'clock. Both of the trains leave Albany at 6:45 A. M., and 6:45 P. M. The first (passenger train) arrives at West Portland at half past eleven A. M., and the other at half past eight in the evening. At Albany, the cars make close connections with the trains.

STEAMER TO SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamship Ajax took away on Saturday over 300 tons of Oregon products, as follows: 4,163 barrels of flour in 1,794 half sacks and 13,084 quarter sacks; 1,423 boxes apples; 700 sacks wheat; 353 sacks bran; 154 sacks onions; 198 boxes eggs; 1,[illegible] sacks flax seed; 62 cases hams and bacon; 32 packages butter; 95 beef hides; 18 bales woolen goods, and 50 packages sundry merchandize.

MUSICAL ACADEMY.—We invite attention to the advertisement announcing the opening of Mr. [illegible]'s Musical Academy next Wednesday, in Burns's new building, on Front street. Mr. [illegible] has been for some time engaged in teaching music in this city and vicinity, and is [illegible] to refer to his success as an instructor [illegible] as his best recommendation for the future.

A MISSIONARY.—Rev. John C. Kimball, Missionary for the American Unitarian Association, occupied the pulpit at the Unitarian Chapel, morning and evening yesterday. Mr. Kimball has recently arrived here. His field of Missionary service is in the Oregon and Washington Territory.

THROUGH TRIP TO WALLULA.—Passengers leaving Portland this morning by the steamer for the Cascades and Dalles, may connect with the steamer at Celilo Tuesday morning, for Wallula. There will be three through trips a week hereafter.

FOR HONOLULU.—The barkentine Jane A. Falkinburg, Chilcart Master, is advertised by Messrs. Allen & Lewis, for a return voyage to Honolulu. She will be dispatched as soon as she can be loaded.

FAILED TO AGREE.—The jury before whom was tried the case of the State of Oregon vs A. M. Lorgan, indictment for uttering obscene publications, failed to agree after being out all night, and on Saturday morning they were discharged.

PERSONAL.—Mr. A. B. Hallock went passenger on the steamer, Saturday, for San Francisco. How the Metropolitan Police is to get along now with more than merely human wisdom can foresee.

LOADED.—The bark Stella has completed her cargo, and will probably leave to-day for Astoria, in tow of the Okanogan. She takes about 500 tons Salem flour, for Rio Janeiro.

THE COURTS.

SATURDAY, Feb. 26, 1871.

CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON, J.—John Creighton was allowed $15 for defense of Frank Dologer, by appointment of the court.

Thomas Atkinson vs Patrick Morrissey; suit to recover possession of real estate; motion to strike out part of reply taken under advisement.

State of Oregon vs Frank Dologer; convicted of assault; sentenced to three months' imprisonment in the county jail, and to pay costs of prosecution.

Grand Lodge of Good Templars vs W. B. Carter; civil action; demurrer to complaint argued, and defendant given until March 4th to file his answer.

The grand jury presented two bills of indictment, verbally reported that they had closed their labors, and were discharged for the term.

State of Oregon vs A. M. Lorgan; jury failed to agree after fourteen hours deliberation, and were discharged.

H. F. Bloch et al vs George Coggan; civil action for damages on contract; motion to strike out part of answer sustained.

B. R. Ingles vs Ella and B. F. Smith; civil action; leave granted plaintiff to file an amended complaint upon payment of costs, and ten days allowed the defendants to answer.

State of Oregon vs Michael Vert; indictment for assault with deadly weapon; defendant arraigned and given until Monday next to obtain counsel and plead.

State of Oregon vs Cyrus Curtis and Wm. Middleton; indictment for larceny from person; defendants arraigned; Curtis gave his given name as David Henderson; Ball appointed to defend and Monday set to plead.

State of Oregon vs John Meehan and Oliver Sweeny; indictment for larceny of hams; defendants arraigned and Monday set to plead; court appointed Mason and Creighton to defend.

David Taggart vs Emma S. Lamb et al; suit to quiet title; demurrer to answer argued, submitted and taken under advisement by the court.

Harrison & Lambert vs G. W. Butler et al; civil action to recover on a promissory note; leave granted plaintiff to file amended complaint.

J. H. Stephenson vs Levi Estes; suit for damages for false imprisonment, alleging malicious prosecution; argument on the insufficiency of the complaint.

The court adjourned until Monday, Feb. 27, at 9 A. M.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mr. T. G. Murphy, editor of the Alaska Times, Seattle, is in town.

Charley Talbot received a severe cut the other day, by falling from a tree, upon a hatchet.

M. D. McCarthy was, on Saturday, sent to jail for three days, for contempt of court, in not appearing as a witness before Judge Lewis.

The U. S. N. Co's steamer Josie McNear, after being thoroughly overhauled and repaired, was launched at the Boneyard, yesterday.

Antonia Barsello was held by Judge Lewis to answer in the sum of $100 for larceny of twenty dollars from Eugene Spedden.

The morning sermon at the Lutheran church, yesterday morning, was on the subject of "Systematic Benevolence"—one of the lost arts.

The Idaho is the next steamer due from San Francisco.

The brig Hadasaska will be towed down the river to-day by the Okanogan. She goes to load with lumber for South America.

The steamer from Astoria last night, reports rough weather at the bar. It has been blowing nearly a gale every day, for the last ten days.

AMUSEMENTS.

ONE FINE THEATER.—The success of the Nickerson Minstrels, during the past week, induced the management to re-engage them, and they will accordingly appear as usual to-night, and every night this week, in songs, dances, character acts, burlesques, etc. The entertainment to-night will open with the comedy of "The Rough Diamond," by the Dramatic Company.

GERMAN FAIR.—The fair in aid of the German Patriotic Fund, heretofore announced for to-night, has been postponed till Wednesday evening, when it will take place in Turn Verein Hall. A full band has been engaged for the occasion.

GRAND JURY REPORT.—The grand jury, after a somewhat laborious session, concluded its labors on Saturday, submitting only a verbal report. Under all the circumstances, this is to be regretted. The public, being aware that a part if not all the jurymen, were called upon to visit the Police Court room at the time of the wholesale arrest of juvenile criminals, would have been glad to know whether the grand jury, as the conservator of the public morals, had anything to offer; and, if so, what. Did the grand jury discuss the question which now, more than any other, demands the attention of the public authorities? If so, what state of facts did they find, demanding their attention? What remedies were suggested and what difficulties were encountered? Or, did the grand jury, after inquiry, (it is stated they made some inquiries) conclude that the easiest way to get along was to ignore the whole matter of responsibility and leave the state of things as they found it? If the latter be true, it is no more or less than has been done, or rather, not done by our city authorities. A responsibility which is becoming really a grave one is, however, resting upon somebody. It was not expected, of course, that the grand jury could do anything, except to inform themselves thoroughly of the state of things existing in the community, to fully expose all the facts and to point out what is necessary to be done. The public ought to have an authoritative statement, published in all the papers, so that everybody might read and judge whether the picture of juvenile vice has been overdrawn by the newspapers, and whether our city authorities are meeting and performing their responsibilities in a proper manner. It is to be hoped that the next grand jury will meet this question fearlessly, and if anybody is responsible station has been or is delinquent, let it be made known fully.

THE "HEATHEN CHINEE" ORGAN.—The organ, par excellence, of the "Heathen Chinee," which has contained from time to time, gorgeous descriptions of the Second street "Joss House," Josslessisms in relation to the [illegible] and miscellaneous announcements of houses and [illegible] of worship, notices of architectural alterations and adornments of the temple, etc., the yesterday morning a felicitous notice and criticism of a "Chinese Concert," which, the reporter says, took place on Second street, on Saturday. The Herald, it is evident, is determined upon being somebody's organ—having somewhat prided as a Democratic organ it is now playing tickle with the Joss fellows. The Chinese being patient, and, withal, somewhat unsophisticated chaps, may stand it.

PASSENGERS FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The N. P. T. Co's steamship Ajax sailed at 4 P. M. on Saturday, from this port for San Francisco. The following is her list of passengers: Miss E W Hudson, Miss Leo Hudson, Miss Annie Hensley, Dr Tennet, A B Hallock, Mrs Crane, Mrs Hackney, S Wolf, J D Schaff, J Sanders, M Jacobs, J French, wife and two children, L H Wakefield, W L Halsey, E Cartwright, A B Crossman, J A Ripperton, J Harris and wife, G M Street, John Barrows, F G Yapp, A H Laflin, Lieut W L Clark, E B Huntington, E A Hawley, N Gibbons and two children, C Crane, C P Amsex, T Harris, J D Spinlock, Mrs J B Goggin, John Tellis, Miss Diamond, Wells, Fargo & Co's messenger, and nine in the steerage.

RETURNED.—Mr. J. H. Mitchell, who has been for some time absent attending to a law suit at Seattle, arrived home Saturday evening. The suit was brought against the N. P. T. Co. to recover damages for a broken leg—the accident occurring to a man on the Seattle wharf some months since. The steamship Pacific was attempting to land, when a line parted and the shore end recoiling, hit a spectator and broke his leg. The suit was a long and well contested one, but the jury returned a verdict for the defendants. Mr. Mitchell appeared for the N. P. T. Company.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED.—The President of the Board of Delegates has appointed the following standing committees of the new Board:

Judiciary Committee—Ed. F. Albright, E. D. Backenstos and J. A. Thomas.

Finance Committee C. H. Marvin, Levi Knott and Thomas Moffett.

On Rules—A. A. Williams, J. H. Lyons and Thomas Huntington.

On Certificates—E. D. Backenstos, T. Huntington and A. A. Williams.

On Cemetery—J. Mayer, P. D. W. Hardenberg and J. A. Thomas.

THE CHURCH LITIGANT.—We hear that Mr. Sullivan of the Dallas Republican is in this city. By the way, we notice the Republican is having a duel with the Church Litigant. That is to say, it is engaged in a theological controversy with litigious Christianity, as represented by the religious-litigant organ published in Polk county.

A Chapter of Facts.

Space is valuable in a newspaper, and it is therefore proposed in this advertisement to condense a variety of facts, important to the public, into a small compass. These facts refer to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—what that celebrated medicine is, and what it will do. In the first place, then, the article is a stimulant, tonic and alterative, consisting of a combination of an absolutely pure spirituous agent with the most valuable medicinal vegetable substances that Botanic research has placed at the disposal of the chemist and the physician. These ingredients are compounded with great care, and in such proportions as to produce a preparation which invigorates without exciting the general system, and tones, regulates and controls the stomach, the bowels, the liver and the minor secretive organs.

What this great restorative will do must be gathered from what it has done. The case of dyspepsia, or any other form of indigestion, in which it has been persistently administered, without effecting a radical cure, is yet to be heard from, and the same may be said of bilious disorders, intermittent fever, nervous affections, general debility, constipation, sick headache, mental disabilities to which the female are so subject. It purifies all the fluids of the body, including the blood, and the results attending which it imparts to the nervous system is not succeeded by the slightest reaction. This is a chapter of facts which readers, for their own sakes, should mark and remember.

NEWSPAPER ARCHIVE®

Mark Twain on Juvenile Pugilists.

We find in the Buffalo Express of the 28th ult. the following paternal objurgations by Mark Twain:

"Yes, I've had a good many fights in my time," said old John Parky, tenderly manipulating his dismantled nose, "and its kind of queer, too, for when I was a boy the old man was always telling me better. When I would come home with my nose bleeding, or with my face scratched up, he used to call me out in the woodshed, and, in a sorrowful and discouraged way, say: 'So, Johnny, you've had another fight, hey? How many times have I got to tell ye how disgraceful and wicked it is for boys to fight? It was only yesterday that I talked to you about the sin of fighting, and here you're at it again. Who was it with this time? With Tommy Kelly, hey? Don't you know [illegible] to fight a boy that we[illegible] than you, besides bei[illegible] you got a crack[illegible] plainly [illegible] determined to break your poor father's [illegible] by your reckless conduct. What am I [illegible]nger? Tommy bit it! Drat the little fool! [illegible] enough to keep yer finger out of his mouth? Was trying to yerk his cheek off, hey? Won't yer never learn to quit foolin' 'round a boy's mouth with your fingers? You're bound to disgrace us all by such wretched behavior. You're determined never to be nobody! Did ye ever hear of Isaac Watts—that wrote 'Let dogs delight to bark and bite'—sticking his fingers in a boy's mouth to get 'em bit, like a fool? I'm discouraged with ye. Why didn't ye go [illegible], the way Jonathan Edwards, and Washington, and Dan'l Webster, used to, when they were boys? Couldn't cause he was down! That's a purty story to tell [illegible] does beat all that you can't learn how Aaron and William Penn used to gouge [illegible] they were under, after the hours and time spent in telling you about these men. It seems to me sometimes as if I could have to give you up in despair. It's a terrible trial to me to have a boy that don't pay attention to good example nor to anything. What! You pulled out three or four locks of his hair! Did he squirm [illegible] you'd give him one or two in the eye [illegible] I've told ye, many a time, fighting is your business. Won't you—for [illegible] boy's sake—won't you promise to try [illegible] him! Johnny, how did you behave?

"Licked Pa! She! Really? Well, [illegible] when you could lick that [illegible] I don't believe John Bunyan [illegible] could have done it: Johnny, [illegible] you can't tell how I hate to have [illegible] any day or two. I wouldn't have him lick you for five, no, not for ten [illegible]. Now, sonny, go right in and wash and tell your mother to put a rag on your finger, and, Johnny, don't let me hear of your fighting again!'

"I never see anybody so down on fighting as the old man was, but somehow he never could learn me from it."

A Strange Story.

The Philadelphia Sunday Dispatch contains an account of a woman who was fascinated by a woman which is most remarkable as a psychological study:

A lady was one of the teachers at a school in a rude country town, and among her pupils was a young girl, who became so attached to her as to be restless when at a near her, and it marked did this [illegible] become that her parents withdrew her from the school, and soon afterward the teacher left the place. The girl was sent to another school, in a distant town, but proved so refractory that at one time the principal thought it advisable to send her home. She would not study or associate with the other girls, until at last a lady her old teacher came to the place and applied for a situation as teacher, which was decided upon. Then she established a school of her own, and her occasional visits to her old pupil were so beneficial that that the girl became tractable and tractable. The parents [illegible]ing that their daughter was again under the influence of the woman who by [illegible] these qualities hated, withdrew [illegible] and took her home. In [illegible] the woman came to the village in which the parents resided and requested [illegible] child's governess, but was refused, [illegible] other was taken in her place, whereupon [illegible] became so obstreperous that she [illegible] books and threw them at the head [illegible] governess, who not liking her treatment [illegible] her ways. As no plausible reason [illegible] be urged against allowing the two friends to see each other occasionally, the strange woman was permitted to visit at the house, and the girl's parents became so jealous of her that they actually drove her from the town, although her character had been unimpeachable. Letters were exchanged [illegible] time passed the strange love seemed to grow, and gain entire control of the girl's mind. Although she had grown to womanhood she loathed the company of men, and although she had numerous lovers, would have nothing to do with them. Her friend was in a far [illegible] town, and hardly able to support herself, and this fact so preyed on the girl's heart that she determined to go to her, as she did at last, although her parents [illegible] her to stay. The two worked together [illegible] and when at last the elder [illegible] she said to her weeping friend: "Oh! [illegible] turn away your face and let me die!" Eight years have passed since that time, but never cried yet [illegible] she sits alone and [illegible] all by [illegible] in her father's house, to [illegible] she has been welcomed. She does not [illegible] her [illegible], and physicians think that [illegible] time she may recover from her strange [illegible] melancholy plight; but her parents, [illegible] her thoroughly, do not believe that [illegible] will ever escape the strange fascination [illegible] her.

President Grant on German Unity.

WASHINGTON, February 7th.—The President [illegible] Congress to-day the following [illegible]

To the House of Representatives:—[illegible] of Germany into a [illegible] of Government similar in many respects [illegible] the United States of America [illegible] Union, is an event [illegible] to touch deeply the sympathies [illegible] the people of the United States. This [illegible] was [illegible] brought about by a long-continued [illegible] persevering effort of the people of [illegible] of the German States through their [illegible] constituted authorities. In it [illegible] have [illegible] an attempt to reproduce in Europe some of the best features of our own constitution, with such modifications [illegible] the history and condition of Germany seem [illegible] The local Governments of the [illegible] members of the Union are preserved, while the powers conferred upon the chief [illegible] strength for the purpose of self-defense [illegible] authority to enter upon wars of conquest and ambition. The cherished aspiration [illegible] national unity, which for ages has inspired the many millions of people speaking [illegible] language and inhabiting a contiguous [illegible] and compact territory, but unnaturally [illegible] and divided by dynastic jealousies [illegible] and the ambition of short-sighted rulers, has been attained, and Germany now contains a population of about 34,000,000, united like our own under one Government, for its relations with other Powers, but retaining in its several [illegible] the right and power of control of their local interests, habits and institutions. The bringing of great masses of thoughtful and free people under a single Government must tend to make Governments what alone they should be, the representatives of the will and the organization of the power of the people. The adoption in Europe of the American system of union under the control and direction of a free people educated to self-restraint, cannot fail to extend popular institutions and to enlarge the peaceful influence of American ideas.

The relations of the United States with Germany are intimate and cordial. The commercial intercourse between the two countries is extensive, and is increasing from year to [illegible] and the large number of citizens and [illegible] in the United States of German extraction, and the continued flow of emigration from Germany into this country, have produced an intimacy of personal and political intercourse approaching if not equal to that with the country from which the founders of our Government derived their origin. The extent of these interests and the greatness of the German Union seem to require that on the classification of the representatives of this Government to foreign Powers there should no longer be an apparent undervaluation of the importance of the German mission, such as is made in the difference between the compensation allowed by law to the Minister to Germany and those to Great Britain and France. There would seem to be a great propriety in placing the representative of this Government at Berlin on the same footing with that of its representative at London and Paris. The union of the several States of Germany under one Government, and the increasing commercial and personal intercourse between the two countries, will also add to the labors and responsibilities of the legation. I therefore recommend that the salaries of the Minister and of the Secretary of Legation at Berlin be respectively increased to the same amounts as are allowed to those at London and at Paris.

RHEUMATIC CURE.

HISTORY:

THIS REMEDY IS COMPOSED OF THE ACTIVE principle of the Unk Weed, Eng.—Tinspium, Corfatum, Originalus, Lat.—Indigenous to Oregon—Grows most abundantly and perfectly in Washington county.

PROPERTIES, &c.:

It contains an active volatile principle extracted by Ether, and a bitter Tonic principle.

Medical Properties and Uses:

It is the most Sure and Speedy Cure for Rheumatism, Rheumatic Gout and Rheumatic Pains of all kinds that has ever been introduced in the Materia Medica. The Unk Weed Remedy is prepared by us, in consequence of the existing bitter principle, possesses the necessary virtue of being a POWERFUL TONIC!

Promoting the Appetite and Invigorating the whole Digestive Apparatus, thus building and strengthening the system, while at the same time the volatile principle, being absorbed in the blood, acts specifically on the Rheumatic Poison, removing it from the circulation and system.

There are few remedies known to the Medical profession, which will remove the Rheumatic poison from the blood, but when action is so powerful in depressing the system of the already enfeebled Rheumatic patient, that their use has to be abandoned before specific effects are obtainable. Hence the want of success in treating this prevalent, and in consequence, heretofore incurable disease. Unlike these Medicines, already known, the

"Unk weed Remedy"

Though producing as powerful and as active effects on the blood and system in removing the Rheumatic Poison, also possesses a strong Tonic and recuperating element, which admits of its continued use even in the most delicate and debilitated. Thus we have the conclusion for the first time of these two necessary elements in the one remedy, which accounts for its superior and never failing curative effects in

RHEUMATISM, RHEUMATIC GOUT

AND

RHEUMATIC PAINS

Of all Kinds.

Put Up in 10 oz. Bottles at $1 50 per Bottle.
